

Eight More Miles to Louisville

With Chord Numbers

Grandpa Jones

TAB is in C

[1] I've travelled [57] o're this [1] country [4] wide, [1] seeking [57] fortune [1] fair
[1] Up and [57] down the [1] two coast [4] lines, I've [1] travelled [57] everywhere
From [4] Portland East to [1] Portland West and back across the [57] line
I'm [1] going [57] down to the [1] place that's [4] best, the [1] old home [57] town of [1] mine

Chorus: [1] Eight more miles and Louisville will [4] come into my [1] view
Eight more miles on this old road and I'll [2] never more be [57] blue
I [4] knew someday that [1] I'd come back, I knew it from the [57] start
[1] Eight more [57] miles to [1] Louis [4] ville, the [1] hometown [57] of my [1] heart

[1] There's got to [57] be a [1] gal some [4] where that [1] you'd like [57] best of [1] all
Now [1] mine is [57] down in [1] Louis [4] ville, she's [1] long and she's [57] tall
And [4] she's the kind that [1] you can't find a-ramblin' through the [57] land
I'm [1] going [57] there this [1] very [4] day to [1] win her [57] heart and [1] hand

Chorus: [1] Eight more miles and Louisville will [4] come into my [1] view
Eight more miles on this old road and I'll [2] never more be [57] blue
I [4] knew someday that [1] I'd come back, I knew it from the [57] start
[1] Eight more [57] miles to [1] Louis [4] ville, the [1] hometown [57] of my [1] heart

Now [1] I can [57] picture [1] in my [4] mind the [1] place we'll [57] call our [1] home
[1] A humble [57] little [1] hut for [4] two, we'll [1] never want to [57] roam
A [4] place that's right for [1] that love site is in those bluegrass [57] hills
Where [1] gently [57] rolls the [1] Ohi [4] o near a [1] place called [57] Louis [1] ville

Chorus: [1] Eight more miles and Louisville will [4] come into my [1] view
Eight more miles on this old road and I'll [2] never more be [57] blue
I [4] knew someday that [1] I'd come back, I knew it from the [57] start
[1] Eight more [57] miles to [1] Louis [4] ville, the [1] hometown [57] of my [1] heart

I've travelled o're this country wide, seeking fortune fair
Up and down the two coast lines, I've travelled everywhere
From Portland East to Portland West and back across the line
I'm going down to the place that's best, the old home town of mine

Chorus: Eight more miles and Louisville will come into my view
Eight more miles on this old road and I'll never more be blue
I knew someday that I'd come back, I knew it from the start
Eight more miles to Louisville, the hometown of my heart

There's got to be a gal some where that you'd like best of all
Now mine is down in Louisville, she's long and she's tall
And she's the kind that you can't find a-ramblin' through the land
I'm going there this very day to win her heart and hand

Chorus: Eight more miles and Louisville will come into my view
Eight more miles on this old road and I'll never more be blue
I knew someday that I'd come back, I knew it from the start
Eight more miles to Louisville, the hometown of my heart

Now I can picture in my mind the place we'll call our home
A humble little hut for two, we'll never want to roam
A place that's right for that love site is in those bluegrass hills
Where gently rolls the Ohio near a place called Louisville

Chorus: Eight more miles and Louisville will come into my view
Eight more miles on this old road and I'll never more be blue
I knew someday that I'd come back, I knew it from the start
Eight more miles to Louisville, the hometown of my heart
